

People cannot forget the restaurant Souplantation.

Though Souplantation closed in 2020, fans of the restaurant continue to hold hopes for its return.

Souplantation was an all-you-can-eat buffet that offered a wide variety of food. The restaurant announced its temporary closure in March 2020, but on May 7, 2020, the closure was made permanent. On Yelp, the restaurant was able to gain a 3.5-star rating.

A picture of Souplantation in Los Angeles

Even though the restaurant closed almost 3 years ago, fans continue to think about their mouthwatering dishes. Kylie Shahmaram, a high school student, when asked about her favorite dish said, "My favorite dish is the Mac n Cheese. It has the perfect amount of cheesiness and flavor, and I dream about it every night." Another student, Lexi Palmer describes their chicken noodle soup as "nothing like anything else in this world."

Even people who did not have the chance to eat at the restaurant know about the famed buffet, "I heard it was really good and a well-loved food spot." said Clancy Edsy Johan, a sophomore at Palisades Charter Highschool. They continued and expressed their regret on not being able to experience the food there, "I wish I had a chance to go to Souplantation before it closed because I always heard that it was the best place to eat and that everyone went there. I also do enjoy a good soup."

In 2022, a Souplantation restaurant not associated with the former company was announced and was set to open in La Mesa in mid-2022, but the opening of the restaurant was delayed on July 2022, after running into complications. According to their Instagram Souplantation.Sd, they announced that they separated from La Mesa and are expecting to open in the Summertime of 2023. Until then, fans of the restaurant continue to wait for a day when Souplantation returns.